BAY ANARCHIST FREE SCHOOL (BAFS) is a collective effort to build relationships that challenge institutional power. We use decentralized classes to learn with each other, increasing autonomy and mutual support. One thread in the shortform classes is Community Preparedness. We want to help each other prepare for when we cannot access normal services, which can happen in a variety of situations - including revolts. Longform classes emphasize explicitly anarchist thinking and practices, in a format that allows for building deeper connections, conversations and practices about how we live and relate to ourselves and each other. We're excited to have you participate: we all have so much to learn from each other. If you have a shortform or longform class idea for next session, submit a proposal at bafs.noblogs.org or email bafs@riseup.net

ADDICTION RECOVERY -- BECAUSE SELF CARE IS REVOLUTIONARY Wed May 7th :: 6:30pm-7:30pm

@ Remote, link to a signal group will be posted 5 days before session

It's hard to fight when we're wasted, no? Addictions of all kinds have been raging through our communities. This group share will explore ways of healing addiction, from practical habits to spirituality, also with an exploration on how promoting & encouraging our self-destruction through addiction is a common tool of class war.

AN ANARCHIST GUIDE TO "COMMUNITY EMERGENCY RESPONSE" Sun July 6th :: 1pm-4pm

@ Location TBD - check website for updates

Are we prepared for a natural disaster? In this session, we will present and analyze plans for disaster response at the local and federal level. We will discuss engagement and intervention into the official disaster responses and propose strategies for creating an anarchist emergency response plan.

ANARCHIST FAMILY MEET UP Sundays May 25th, June 29th, July 27th :: 11am-1pm

@ Dimond Park (3860 Hanly Road, Oakland)

Monthly meet-up for anarchist families and folks who want kids in their lives! This is a potluck to hang out, connect, and develop some anarchist skillshares for kids and discussion for adults. Bring skills/topics you want to teach or see taught, and can work with you to develop age-appropriate material. Our hope is to work against capitalism's drive to disconnect and isolate families and inter-generational relationships. We aim to build community among anarchist families in the Bay, as well as incorporate non-parents who are interested in sharing experiences with future anarchists.

ANIKA GRANGLE TEACHES TAROT Wed June 18th :: 7:30pm-9:30pm

@ Long Haul (3124 Shattuck Ave, Berkeley)

A professional reader will show methods to: form a bond with the cards, increase mental receptivity, see the big picture, determine which questions to ask and understand why the question is as important as the answer, be faithful to your senses and the cards, mine confusing spreads for new information, and, vitally, to fulfill the sacred obligation of the reader to the client and avoid hurting people. This class is ideal for an intermediate-level reader, but beginners and experts will still learn something. Bring your favorite deck and a question for the cards.

ASTROLOGY OF SOCIAL UPHEAVAL W/ ERRA Mon July 7th :: 7pm-10pm

@ Hasta Muerte (2701 Fruitvale Ave, Oakland)

This class will look at astrology not on a personal level but as a narrative lens to analyze interlocking temporal cycles of social upheaval. How might upcoming astrological shifts provide useful ways to talk about and prepare for insurrections, wars, the rise of AI, and other events on earth? All levels of familiarity with astrological principles and terminology are welcome.

BACKYARD GARDENING AND FOOD SOVEREIGNTY W/ STICKY AND ZINA Sun May 18th :: 1pm-4pm; Fri June 20th :: 3pm-6pm; Sun July 20th :: 1pm-4pm

@ RSVP to wormstewgardens@proton.me for location

How do we feed ourselves and each other? How do we begin to make a world of many worlds? Learn how you can start with tending land you have access to with the people around you. We'll learn together about sustainable farming in the summer season: growing food, restoring the land, and setting intentions.

CANNING AND FOOD PRESERVATION: RESPONDING TO ABUNDANCE! Sat July 5th :: 1pm-4pm

@ Tamarack (1501 Harrison Street, Oakland)

Share your knowledge and experience with preserving foods as we practice some basic canning! Summertime in California provides a fresh abundance through local farmers, backyard fruit trees, and wild foraged berries. Preserving these foods at the time of harvest can increase our communal capacity to store foods, makes distribution more accessible to people without refrigerators or kitchens, and this age-old tradition of putting up food can also make our communities more resilient in the face of disasters. Respond to the abundance that summertime offers us and come learn about canning!

COOKING FOR LARGE GROUPS

Sundays July 13th, July 27th :: 3pm-7pm

@ Tamarack (1501 Harrison Street, Oakland)

Large group cooking, but make it tasty. Sourcing food, best practices in the kitchen, and inclusive cooking. Via Tamarack Community Dinner crew. We'll cook and share a meal together for each session.

DECOLONIZATION IN THEORY AND PRACTICE

Saturdays June 14th, 21st, 28th and July 12th, 19th, 26th :: 3:30pm-5:30pm

@ Tamarack (1501 Harrison Street, Oakland)

Many anarchists are committed to "decolonizing everything," but what does this actually mean? This course will facilitate discussion around a focused collection of multimedia materials—from book chapters to zines to films—that frame the basics of decolonization in theory and practice. Participants don't need to have any prior knowledge of this subject; they will be encouraged to bridge the past and present and adopt a transnational perspective on decolonization by considering mobilizations both within and outside North America.

DE-ESCALATION SKILLS FOR ACTIVISTS, REVOLUTIONARIES AND ANYONE ELSE! W/ KANGS AND PAT

Thursdays May 22nd, May 29th :: 5pm-8pm

@ Unimatrix Zero in North Oakland

(email DeEscalationForEveryone@proton.me for the address)

Join us to talk about hard situations with single and multiple people, how to best support them, take care of yourself and contribute to a safer community. We will go over ways to know get yourself into the conversation, build rapport, empathy and connection skills. And time to roleplay, rehearse and post-hearse scenarios.

DIGITAL SECURITY UNDER SURVEILLANCE CAPITALISM W/ PINYON AND KARO Thurs May 29th :: 6:30pm-9pm

@ Tamarack (1501 Harrison Street, Oakland)

Sat May 31st :: 2pm-4:30pm

@ Tamarack (1501 Harrison Street, Oakland)

Tues June 17th :: 6:30pm-9pm

@ The Building at Gill Tract Farm (1050 San Pablo Avenue, Albany)

Mass data collection poses significant challenges to privacy, and affords enormous power to the corporations and states who possess it. What basic everyday practices can we adopt to counter surveillance and keep our communities safer? Each class will discuss basic principles and specific tools, with time to work on your own devices. Session 1 (5/29) focuses on phones, Session 2 (5/31) on computers, and in Session 3 (6/17) we will set up GrapheneOS (bring an unlocked Pixel phone with GrapheneOS installed: <http://tinyurl.com/installgraphene>).

DIY HUMANURE: THE MERITS OF SMALL-SCALE POOP COMPOSTING

Wed May 21st :: 4pm-5:30pm

@ Snow Park (19th Street & Harrison Street, Oakland)

How can shitting become a daily ritual against industrial capitalism's attempts to enclose and control the flow of water, nutrients and microorganisms through our bodies, the land, the rivers? This will be a show and tell about DIY humanure (poop composting) systems for households small and large, urban and rural.

DRIP IRRIGATION FOR WATER SCARCITY W/ AMELIA Sundays June 15th, June 29th :: 10am-12pm

@ Bikini Bottom (545 32nd Street, Oakland)

A crash course in drip irrigation systems on a residential scale. We'll learn about the hardware, installation, trouble-shooting, and programming of a simple battery-operated system. First class will be an overview of how drip systems are useful, and discussion of hardware + materials. Second class will be an installation demo and opportunity to play with the supplies.

EMERGENT PLAY FOR DIVERGENT BEINGS: PLAY AS A COMMUNITY ORGANIZING TOOL W/ ISHU & FRITZ

Sundays June 8th, 15th, 22nd :: 11am-2pm

@ Marx Meadow in Golden Gate Park (at 25th Ave, San Francisco)

This experimental series combines theater techniques with organizing tools from adrienne maree brown's Emergent Strategy. We'll connect play, power, justice, resistance, and joy—challenging usual ideas about who gets to play and how we relate with each other. Inspired by natural systems where change emerges through collaboration and mutual support, Emergent Play welcomes all flavors and textures that you are, no matter your background or experience.

FARADAY PHONE WALLET MAKING CLASS W/ MAI A

Sat July 12th :: 1pm-3pm

@ Long Haul (3124 Shattuck Ave, Berkeley)

Protect yourself and your data from cops and Stingray devices during big mass actions and protests. Build a DIY faraday cage for your phone to block signals. Supplies and instructions provided.

GUERRILLA HYDROLOGY W/ ARES + VIRGA

Sat July 19th :: 4pm-6pm

@ Deffremery Park (1651 Adeline St, Oakland)

Explore the hidden infrastructure of urban water systems, from reservoirs to fire hydrants. We'll break down how water moves through the city, who controls it, and how it can be accessed. After a classroom session on municipal waterworks, we'll head outside for a hands-on practicum.

HARM REDUCTION MEETUP

Mondays May 26th, June 30th, July 28th :: 7pm-8pm

@ 1924 Union Street - Unit 1, Oakland

We Take Care of Us. This is an ongoing monthly space for those interested or already participating in harm reduction. Come learn, share skills, offer support, collaborate, grieve, build solidarity, and discuss liberatory harm reduction practices. Loosely facilitated, collaborations encouraged.

SPACES TO GROW W/ V AND TBO

Saturdays June 21st, July 12th, July 26th :: 4pm-7pm

@ RSVP to daturahoney@proton.me for location or to propose a site

Help us help you grow your garden. Landscape designers/gardeners will guide you through a design process at three locations on separate days. Assess the site, find resources, and make a plan. If you have a site in mind or would like to host a session, we are looking for you. No place is too small, hostile, or out of reach. Show us your backyard, balcony, sidewalk/median strip, or underutilized public-ish space. Deadline for site proposals is 5/31.

TAKE BACK THE TOWN

Tuesdays May 27th, June 10th :: 6pm-8pm

@ Tamarack (1501 Harrison Street, Oakland)

Informational sessions on tenant organizing. The first session will cover the political landscape and history of housing in the East Bay. The second session will detail how tenants can organize to gain rent reductions and enact repair-and-deduct to improve habitability.

TOOLS IN HANDS W/ THROCKMORTON

Saturdays May 17th, May 31st, June 7th :: 11am-1pm

@ RSVP to signal_username@laboon.72 for location

Handson class to learn general wood construction techniques. Become familiar with tools like hammers, drills, and saws. The goal of this class is to build confidence operating tools and making building decisions. When our bodies are already friends with our tools, we can act quickly and comfortably in both calm and crisis settings! Any skill level welcome but intended for beginners.

USING TECH TO BATTLE TECH: LEARNING ARDUINO, SENSORS, CAMERAS, AND CODE W/ REVOLT

Mon May 12th :: 3:30pm-4:30pm

@ Remote, link to a signal group will be posted 5 days before session

Technology can feel soul-destroying, especially with how it has been used to harm our communities, warp our relationship to nature and each other, and displace our friends and family. But technology itself does not have a politic; it can also be used for freedom struggles, as we see its role in Palestine, Yemen, and Ukraine. Based on experience of attendees (it's a co-creation!), this will be a beginner-friendly class to learn how to program and build your own projects using sensors, robots, cameras, and even some AI. This class encourages an anti-fascist, anti-capitalist relationship with our technological world, sharing the joy and creativity that is possible with a different value system, rooted in community care, diversity, and environmentalism.

WRITING FOR US: A WORKSHOP W/ DB & ANDI ROSE

Sun June 22nd :: 10am-3pm

@ Location TBD - check website for updates

Communicating across differences with care and creativity is a challenge we all face in our community forming, building, sustaining, and organizing. How might creative expression and writing help us learn how to talk to each other, navigate conflict, and build community resiliency? What is the role of poetry and creative writing in building a "we"? Through creative writing, can we expand our ideas of community and collective resistance? We will read poetry and creative prose that explore the perspective of "we." Then, we will explore how collaborative writing from/for "us"—through choral expression, dialog, and more—can help us develop empathetic, non-individualist approaches to being in community.

WRITING WITH THE PLANTS W/ TAYLOR ROSE

Saturdays May 10th, June 14th, July 12th :: 11am-12:30pm

@ Gill Tract Farm (1050 San Pablo Avenue, Albany)

--- Each session focuses on one plant in depth, and then invites folks into creative (writing) reflection. We'll engage with the lessons plants can offer around inhabiting our ecologies in ways that generate more possibility for collective survival. Come get to know plants and imagine together.
